

Do I Need a Lawyer?

When you, or a family member, have had a serious spinal cord injury, your whole world changes. You are faced with many important decisions, including your immediate and long-term care. You naturally seek out the advice of experienced members of the medical community to help you understand treatment options.

It soon becomes apparent, however, that over the course of your lifetime, medical treatment, rehabilitation and care costs alone can run into the millions of dollars. Obtaining the advice of experienced legal professionals is critical to fully understand your rights and your entitlement to compensation.

The nature of your injury requires the advice of a reputable personal injury law firm with expertise in spinal cord injury. A firm with trial experience that has the necessary skills and resources to take on the insurance company, for as long as it takes, to get the results you deserve. A legal team that makes you feel comfortable, has your best interests at heart, and will take the time to answer all of your questions—day or night.
